In May 2013 SGS has awarded BMTP with ISO9001:2008 and ISO14001:2004 certification for her newly built facility in Thailand. Achieving the new certification will boost BMTP's customer with further confidence of our Quality and Environmental Management System. Being awarded ISO 9001&14001 certificate is one of the BMTP's key achievements as it is deemed one of the most important goals that many organizations around the world aspire to achieve through providing their business compliance up to international standardization requirements.
